Women's U19 National team coach 2017/2018 – Job description

Floorball New Zealand has entered a Women's U19 National team into the World Floorball Championships Qualification for the first time. The team will potentially play a qualification in September/October 2017 against other teams from the Asia-Oceania Region. This is still to be confirmed by IFF and is expected to be known by Mid March. If a qualification is to be held, it will be held in Australia or New Zealand.

The World Cup Finals are held in Switzerland from 2 to 6 May 2018 with potentially two teams from the Asia-Oceania region qualifying.

Floorball New Zealand is committed to further improve and strengthen the Floorball performance of the New Zealand National teams. Therefore Floorball New Zealand is looking to engage an experienced and passionate Floorball head coach for the Women's U19 National team for the campaign of the 2017/2018 World Floorball Championships. The head coach who will lead, train and coach the team from April this year until the Qualification Tournament in 2017 and in the case of qualification, also to the World Floorball Championships in Switzerland in 2018.

As a driven coach you will easily demonstrate your ability to lead and inspire a dedicated squad and leverage your experience, knowledge and skills of all that is required to be successful in Floorball. You will become a vital part of Floorball New Zealand and be integral to the development of the sport in the near future.

The successful applicant will have:

- A real passion for Floorball and the development of individual players as well as a positive team culture and spirit
- A strong dedication to work with young and developing players and help them become a strong part of future National teams
- Experience in working with teenagers, in particular girls and showing understanding of their needs and ability to address these
- A proven track record in coaching and playing Floorball at a high level
- An excellent knowledge of Floorball skills, techniques and team tactics
- Effective and confident communication skills to work effectively with players, squad, manager and other stakeholder
- A positive and supportive attitude to inspire and encourage all players and create an inclusive team environment

Job Description

- Role: Women's U19 National Team Head Coach
- Place of work: Predominantly Wellington, ASB Sports Centre, Kilbirnie, other places as required
- Reports to: Committee of Floorball New Zealand
- Works with: Floorball New Zealand Committee
- National Team manager
- Other coaching and team staff
- Players and parents of players
- Job purpose: The purpose of this role is to develop and build up the performance of the New Zealand Women's U19 National team. This involves working with individual players as well as developing effective team tactics and strategies.

MAIN DUTIES & RESPONSIBILITIES:

- Plan, prepare and deliver training weekends and training days for the National team. This includes preparing team based and individual training plans for the time between training days/weekends.
- Visit Floorball NZ events (Championship Series, tournaments, etc.), local club trainings, local leagues, etc. to scout for potential players and talk to players about upcoming training events.
- Select the final Women's U19 National team (maximum of 20 players) out of the training squad in conjunction with two other selectors appointed by Floorball NZ.
- Communicate regularly with players and their parents, setting appropriate goals and targets for individuals to work on in their own time or with their respective Club teams.
- Liaise and communicate with regional clubs and their coaches to identify suitable talent to be included in the training squad.
- Lead and coach the New Zealand Women's U19 National team during the World Floorball Championships Qualification Tournament in 2017 with the aim to qualify for the World Cup Finals in May 2018.
- Provide coaching expertise or mentoring in the areas of; individual skills (ball control, shooting, passing), team tactics and fitness.
